Meet the Wizarday Family!

Amber

Loves dancing more than anything. Does Hip Hop with every move.

Curly

Takes his time, but when surf's up he jumps right in. Rollerblades is it!

Lee

Loves routine and order—but most of all, her tuba-cozy-tozy.

Mom

Army officer. A wiz at planning ahead and just the person to turn to when trouble occurs.

Dad

Tuba player. Always comes up with fun ways to do stuff.

Here's what you'll find:

An 80-page chapter book

Identify with any member of the Wizarday family to help internalize the idea of routine and achieve it in the most appealing way.

House of Fun Activities

Enjoy the educational activities – puzzles, riddles and games – and fun info pages in Part 2 of the book. Learn from these step-by-step tools on the benefits of routine, and more!

Board and Card Games

Game 1

Find your missing item on a Magic Sack Card. Race around the board to find your missing Routine on a Magic Sack Card.

Game 2

Flip the board over and play the 4 Rooms Game. State your Opinions and open a Window of Harmony.

Game 3

What does Breakfast have to do with Shower? A card game to play on the go

-- "Wizarday is filled with fun characters, silly names and games and charts to track schedules and routines for all members of the family. Parents of preadolescents will love Wizarday but they may have to wait their turn to read it". Midwest Book Review Dec. 2010

-- "The book is full of surprises and if you love a mystery and problem solving this is the book for you. Wizarday, ...gets a 5 star rating. I give this book two thumbs up!" Rhonda Fischer, American Chronicle January 2011
